PROPOSED MODEL RULES FOR INDUSTRY SPONSORED RESEARCH, CONSULTANCY & TESTING

1. INTRODUCTION

The Institute considers industry sponsored research work, consultancy & testing as important activities to achieve several objectives such as:

- contributing to the infrastructural & industrial growth of the Nation and for welfare of the human society,
- fostering industry institute interaction,
- helping students, especially post-graduate students for their industrial orientation,
- enhancing professional expertise of the faculty members and technical staff,
- generating funds for the Institute's development and academic growth of the faculty
- developing insight for practical feasibility in research,
- providing service to the community/society, and
- extending knowledge/know how for technology itself.

Therefore, as a matter of policy, the Institute encourages its faculty members to undertake research and consultancy work. The research scholars, post graduate and under graduate students may also be encouraged to be involved as student associates in such work. However the research, consultancy and testing work should no way disturb teaching and other usual activities of the academic staff, associated staff and students.

2. SCOPE

The scope of work is broadly outlined as follows, all in the project mode:

Government sponsored and similar research (Type I)

All the projects concerning research work including specialised Technology Development Mission projects sponsored by any government organisation or similar funding agencies shall be classified as Type I projects.

Industry sponsored research (Type II)

Sponsored R&D projects usually of 2-5 years duration with substantial funding through grants from industries (both National and International), including specialised Technology Development Mission projects. Such projects include long-term basis, developmental, and applied research, leading to appropriate solutions to scientific and technological problems.

Consultancy (Type III)

Projects or jobs awarded/assigned/accepted from Industry, NGOs, or Government departments, which are generally of short duration (varying from a few weeks to a year), having clear cut deliverables, and which are aimed at solving specific problems of interest to user agencies will be considered as Consultancy. Consultancy may be of advising in nature, and also of highly specialized training, team building, product/software development etc. These projects are not expected to use any laboratory facilities and any other equipment.

Testing (Type IV)

Such projects will cover Laboratory testing/ field testing/field measurement, calibration of equipment/instruments, testing of materials, design, software etc.

The above may involve:

- (a) Visit to actual sites of work place of Institutions, Industries, organizations and other external agencies to assess the nature and magnitude of the problem faced and technical services required,
- (b) Surveying of land, traffic, infrastructure, market, plant and machinery, techno-economic feasibility, damages, environment, pollutants, wastes etc.

Collaborative and other Projects (Type V)

Any R&D and/or training projects in collaboration with any organization/Institute or any other projects not covered in Type I, II, III or IV, will be classified as Type V category. Also the type of work not covered under Type I to Type IV as above shall be decided on case to case basis by the Director.

3. RESEARCH AND CONSULTANCY COMMITTEE

There shall be a Research and Consultancy (R & C) Committee to manage Research and Consultancy works in the Institute.

The R & C committee shall be appointed by the Director with Dean (R&C) as Chairperson and deputy Dean (R&C) as the convenor.

No project of the Institute would be sent outside without prior intimation to Dean (R&C) so that proper records are maintained. Nor projects would be sent outside the institute without the approval / consent of the Director. If officiating Director needs to forward any project for urgency may consult director before forwarding. PIs, normally may be a faculty member in the service of the Institute and will be completely responsible for the completion of the project. PIs would maintain financial and other records as per norms and procedure laid down by the project agency. PIs will have full freedom regarding the appointment of research fellows/research associates / faculty members and support staff depending upon the needs of the project.

8.2 Consultancy/Testing Projects

Each consultancy/ Testing Project will have a Principal Investigator (P.I.) who will be normally a faculty member in the service of the Institute and who will be completely responsible for the completion of the project work. All the proposals for consultancy, testing, research would have to be sent to the Director who would allocate to the departments and in some cases to the faculty member directly with intimation to Head and Dean (R&C).

Final

8.2.1 Appointment of Principal Investigator (P.I.) and the team

The requisition of consultancy project work will go to the Director who will authorize HOD for appointment of the Principal Investigator and the team as per expertise required for the project. HOD concerned will appoint PI and form the team in consultation with the PI. Information about the PI appointed and the team formed shall be communicated to the dean R&C, before taking up the work. Any controversy in appointing PI and/or team shall be looked into by Dean (R&C) and solve. If it is felt, it may be sent to the Director. Any change in PI and the team at a later stage (if any) must be communicated to Dean (R & C) clearly stating the reason for such change. For interdisciplinary or other important projects Principal Investigator and the team shall be appointed by the Director in consultation with respective HODs and the information shall be provided to the Dean (R&C). For inclusion of Ph.D students, the respective supervisor's consent is to be taken. In case of research projects, the PI will be appointed / approved by the Director or the sponsoring agency.

8.3 Collaboration with outside organization/subcontracting

If collaboration with outside Institution or subcontracting a part of the project is envisaged; the nature, scope and financial budget of the proposed arrangements will also be defined at the beginning of the project and to be sent to the Director through Dean (R & C), for his approval.

To take care of any consultancy and testing above Rs one lakh, Project may be sent to the director for his approval.

8.4 Encouragement for Research Projects

- (1) There will be provisions for extending additional facilities to the PIs, coordinators etc. of the research projects (for producing PhDs, publications, patents etc.) from the fund of the Dean (R&C), in terms of attending National/International conferences, equipping and updating the laboratories, traveling for academic work, trainings etc. A Standing Committee constituted by the Director will make suitable recommendations to him for approval on the basis of the quantum of the research projects, its outcome, publications, collaborations, patents etc.

final

- (2) Although research projects are by and large in the credit of the faculty members, it is observed that the projects are awarded also on the basis of the status of the Institute, Infrastructure available, its management etc., and the Institute Authority ultimately has to sign utilization etc., hence there shall be some control and monitoring of the Projects.
